BESTIARIO

"In these animals, out of the passing of time, even among the most ignored such as snails, I find our spirit, my age, our misfortunes of human beings, everything we invent to go through life."

Jean Fugère

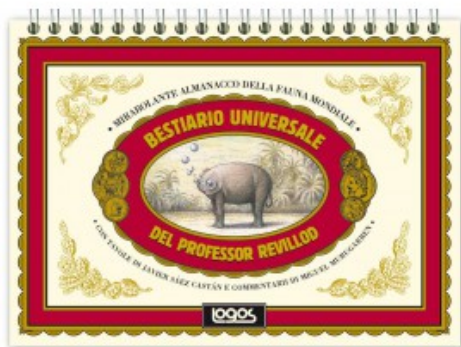

Bestiary: audacity, imagination and artistic and literary quality in the form of a book. The illustrations by Stéphane Poulin perfectly match with the prologue by Jean Fugère and complete an exercise in style full of dexterity.

An introspective text, constantly hovering between reality and surreality, taking roots in the soul. An uninhibited and evocative language that plays with double entendres. A world full of hints to the art of Magritte, Hopper and Van Gogh.
